

Notes on Contributors

Muhammad Ali Baig is currently working as a Research Fellow at the Institute of Strategic Studies Islamabad (ISSI), Pakistan. He is a Ph.D. scholar and a distinguished graduate of the National Defence University (NDU), Islamabad, Pakistan. He possesses an M.Phil. in International Relations from NDU with Distinction and a Merit Certificate from the President of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan. He possesses an M.Sc. in International Relations from NDU with Distinction and Master's degrees in Political Science (University of the Punjab, Lahore, Pakistan), English (Linguistics and Literature) from COMSATS University, Islamabad, Pakistan, and History (University of the Punjab, Lahore, Pakistan). He also writes for The Nation, The Daily Times, The Pakistan Observer, and Pakistan Today. He co-authored the book Realism and Exceptionalism in U.S. Foreign Policy: From Kissinger to Kerry (2020). He can be reached at mmab11@gmail.com or alibaig@issi.org.pk.

Dost Muhammad Barrech is a former Research Associate at the Institute of Strategic Studies Islamabad (ISSI). Currently, he is a lecturer in the International Relations Department at the University of Balochistan, Quetta. He is a PhD candidate in International Relations at the International Islamic University Islamabad (IIUI). He can be reached at bareach87@gmail.com.

Talat Shabbir is Director of the China-Pakistan Study Centre at the Institute of Strategic Studies. He holds a PhD in International Relations from Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad. He has an M.Phil. in International Relations from the University of Karachi, a Masters in International Relations from the University of Balochistan, and a Masters in Political Science from the University of Punjab. His research areas are South Asia, the Belt and Road Initiative, CPEC, and Pakistan-China relations. Dr. Talat has been a visiting scholar at the Sigur Centre for Asian Studies, George Washington University, USA. He has been on the faculty of the Institute of Strategic Studies Research and Analysis (ISSRA) at the National Defence University (NDU), where he was responsible for conducting national security workshops and national media workshops. He regularly contributes to newspapers on domestic, regional, and global politics and hosts an academic programme called Belt and Road Economic Future (BRIEF) on a Digital Broadcast Television

(DBTV) to address issues related to the Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) and the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

Saima Liaqat is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Economics at Lahore College for Women University (LCWU), Lahore. She holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Punjab, Lahore. She can be reached at saima.liaqat@lcwu.edu.pk.

Khalid Khan is an Associate Professor of Economics at Balochistan University of Information Technology, Engineering, and Management Sciences (BUIITEMS), Quetta. He holds a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Quantitative Economics from the School of Economics at Huazhong University of Science and Technology, China. He can be reached at khalidkk82@yahoo.com.

Muhammad Ahsan is a Lecturer at the School of Integrated Social Sciences and a research associate at the Centre for Security, Strategy, and Policy Research at the University of Lahore. He can be reached at muhammad.ahsan@siss.uol.edu.pk.

Areeja Syed has completed an MS in International Relations from COMSATS University Islamabad. She can be reached at areejasyed@hotmail.com.

Talha Khalid is currently doing a Bachelor of Science (with honours) in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, University of Central Punjab, Lahore, Punjab, Pakistan.

Waleed Bin Mujahid is currently doing a Bachelor of Science (with honours) in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, University of Central Punjab, Lahore.

Muhammad Shahzad Akram is currently working as a Research Officer at CISSAJK. He has completed his MPhil in International Relations from Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad.

Saher Liaqat is a Graduate of International Relations from the School of Politics and International Relations, Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad. She can be reached at saherliaqat2000@gmail.com.

Abu Hurrairah Abbasi is a Graduate of International Relations from the School of Politics and International Relations, Quaid-i-Azam University, Islamabad. He can be reached at abuhurrairahah@gmail.com.

Areeba Azhar is currently working as a Research Assistant at the Centre for International Strategic Studies Sindh (CISSS), Karachi.